The Associated Press Wall Street closed its dreary February on a brighter note, as U.S. stock indexes rallied. The S&P 500 jumped 1.6% Friday to trim its loss for the month, enough to make it the worst since only December instead of since April. The Dow Jones Industrial Average climbed 1.4%, and the Nasdaq composite added 1.6%. Nvidia jumped to recover a chunk of its steep loss from Thursday, which helped lift the market. Treasury yields sank after a report said that inflation decelerated a bit last month but also that U.S. consumers also cut back on their spending. Asian stock indexes tumbled amid worries about tariffs.The S&P 500 rose 92.93 points, or 1.6%, to 5,954.50. The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 601.41 points, or 1.4%, to 43,840.91. The Nasdaq composite rose 302.86 points, or 1.6%, to 18,847.28.
